Jungfraujoch - Konkordiahütte - Fiesch

From the highest train station in Europe over the mightiest ice masses in the Alps

Program:
Day 1: We meet at 11:00 a.m. at the coffee bar in the Jungfraujoch station. Before we start the easy descent, the mountain guide will orient the participants about the behavior on the glacier. Downhill we go through impressive crevasse landscapes at a leisurely pace towards the Konkordiahütte, where we arrive later in the afternoon.

Day 2: So that we do not miss the sunrise, we will get up early. After a rich breakfast, we pack our backpacks and descend via the new metal staircase to the Aletsch Glacier, or better, to the Konkordiaplatz. Following the first medial moraine or Trugberg moraine, we will reach Märjelensee in about 3 hours. Those who wish can refresh themselves in the cold mountain lake or hike back to Fiescheralp. You will be back in Fiesch between 1:00 and 3:00 p.m. on the second day.
